MEN OF ALL PARTIES.

August 15th, 1855, &c.

27th SAD ACCIDENT.—On Monday evening last, THOMAS SCOVEN, son of H. W. SCOVEN, of this place met with a lamentable accident. While showing the action of a patient straw cutter his fingers were caught in the knives, and before its motion could be stopped three of his fingers were very severely cut—one of them so severely as to render amputation necessary. The other two though cut almost entirely off have not yet been amputated, and will probably be saved. Dr. WALKER dressed the wound, which the boy bore a hero.

27th ACCIDENT AT THE COUNTY INFIRMARY.—On Wednesday of last week, one of the horses belonging on the Infirmary farm was killed in the following manner: Mr. Jonathan Abel, brother-in-law to [Mr. Williams], the keeper of the Infirmary was hauling sashes with the team, when a falling tree caught the saddle horse of the team, crushing it to death instantly. It seems almost a miracle that Mr. A. was not injured, as he was on the horse at the time of the accident, but, strange to say, was unharmed.

RONNIES.—Our village was disgraced by the outrageous proceedings of a gang of young rowdies, or sabbath night last. Their obscene, and profane language was disgusting, and shocking to ears "polite." If they belonged to a class of persons who know no better than to make night hideous by their yell and curse, we might have some charity for them; but such is not the case. They profess to be of the "first families," and are spoken of in refined circles as belonging to the "upper ten." Down with such rowdy, disgraceful champaign aristocracy, say we, and let them feel the arm of the law. What are our town officers about that such proceedings go unpunished of justice. The names of the rowdies are known. Let them be careful in future.

27th The great question here now is, who sells the liquor to the drunken rascals who carouse about our streets at night. We have seen several men intoxicated here in the last week, and we heard about a dozen on Sunday night. The county jail is the proper place for such men, if they do belong to the learned professions and wear fine clothes.

SCHOOLS.—The District Schools in town commence their fall session next Monday. The school building on Marietta street is being fitted up to accommodate the highest Department, and one of the Primary departments; the other two schools will be held in the old school houses. Mr. Moore, and Misses Edington, Simpson and Carle the teachers.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.—The Democracy of this County nominated the following ticket on Friday last—For Representatives, Dr. John A. Weyer, S. W. Gaton. For Treasurer, Thos. Johnson. For Commissioner, J. W. Miller. For P. H. Director, Wm. Kammage. For Coronor, J. W. Higleyman.

The District Court has been in session here since Friday. Judges Keenan, Converse, Alexander, and Means are upon the bench.

From E. G. Morgan, summer Penock apples measuring 11 1/2 inches in circumference.

From Mrs. R. H. Miller, an apple tree branch 18 inches long, containing 27 good sized apples. A great curiosity.

(Remainder next week.)

27th Mr. Wharton has retired from the editorial chair of the Wheeling Gazette, after being in it 20 years, lacking three weeks. He is succeeded by Wm. S. Gilman, formerly of Essex co. Va. Mr. Gilman takes his stand upon the National K. N. platform and endorses its principles.

C. M. & T. RAIL ROAD.—We understand that an arrangement has been entered into by which the iron for the first 50 miles of this road will be laid down and the rolling machinery obtained. This will complete the road to Massillon, in Stark co. This much, we are informed, will be completed in a short time.

27th If Mr. Davenport thinks himself wrong by us in anything we have said about him our columns are open to him, to set himself right before our readers. If we have wronged him nothing will afford us more pleasure than to set him right.

STYPTIC.—A young man named John Barnes, aged 17 years, bled to death on Monday morning in Buffalo, from the effect of a tooth which had been extracted some days previously.

How easily his life might have been saved by an application of a styptic; one of the best and most easily obtained is gunpowder. Let it be pulverized and laid upon his tooth to get as much as possible in the cavity of the tooth, held in by the wad of lint or cotton. By renewing the application two or three times relief is rendered a most certain. We have never known a failure, and have seen it applied to some desperate cases.—N. Y. Tribune.
